Looking for a unique venue?

The Royal College of Surgeons of Edinburgh is an internationally respected institution, a thriving global network of 33,000 medical professionals, pioneering in the advancement of surgical breakthroughs and patient care since 1505. Today, our remit of care has expanded. We now offer cutting-edge hospitality, operating multiple venues in Edinburgh's iconic Old Town, in an area we call Surgeons Quarter

OUR VENUES

Whether you're planning an intimate celebration or a large occasion, Surgeons Quarter can cater for your every need. Choose between antique oak-panelled ambience or bright, contemporary sophistication in spaces that cater from 10 to 230 guests in comfort. You can even opt for both, making use of our beautiful campus over the whole day! Your guests will enjoy the change of scenery and there are plenty of photo opportunities for you on a day you'll never forget.

Surgeons Quarter holds a civil wedding licence, enabling you to hold your wedding ceremony in the Playfair Hall, Fellows' Library or the Deacon Suite. Religious ceremonies can be held in any of our exclusive rooms, all offering a unique and amazing experience.

We can cater fully for your wedding breakfast by creating a meal entirely suited to your tastes and lay on an unforgettable evening celebration. Ceilidh, disco or drinks - you choose!

Your overnight guests can revel in the luxury of our sumptuous hotel in which every last detail has been thoughtfully taken care of. Ten Hill Place Hotel is situated in Hill Square, right next to our wedding venues.

After seeing Surgeons Quarter, we just knew it was the place where we wanted to get married.

Surgeons Quarter – Cutting Edge Hospitality

Situated on Nicolson Street, we are a central destination tucked away from the hustle and bustle of the city. Our venues are within walking distance of one another and offer a mixture of light, bright spaces and historic wood-panelled elegance.

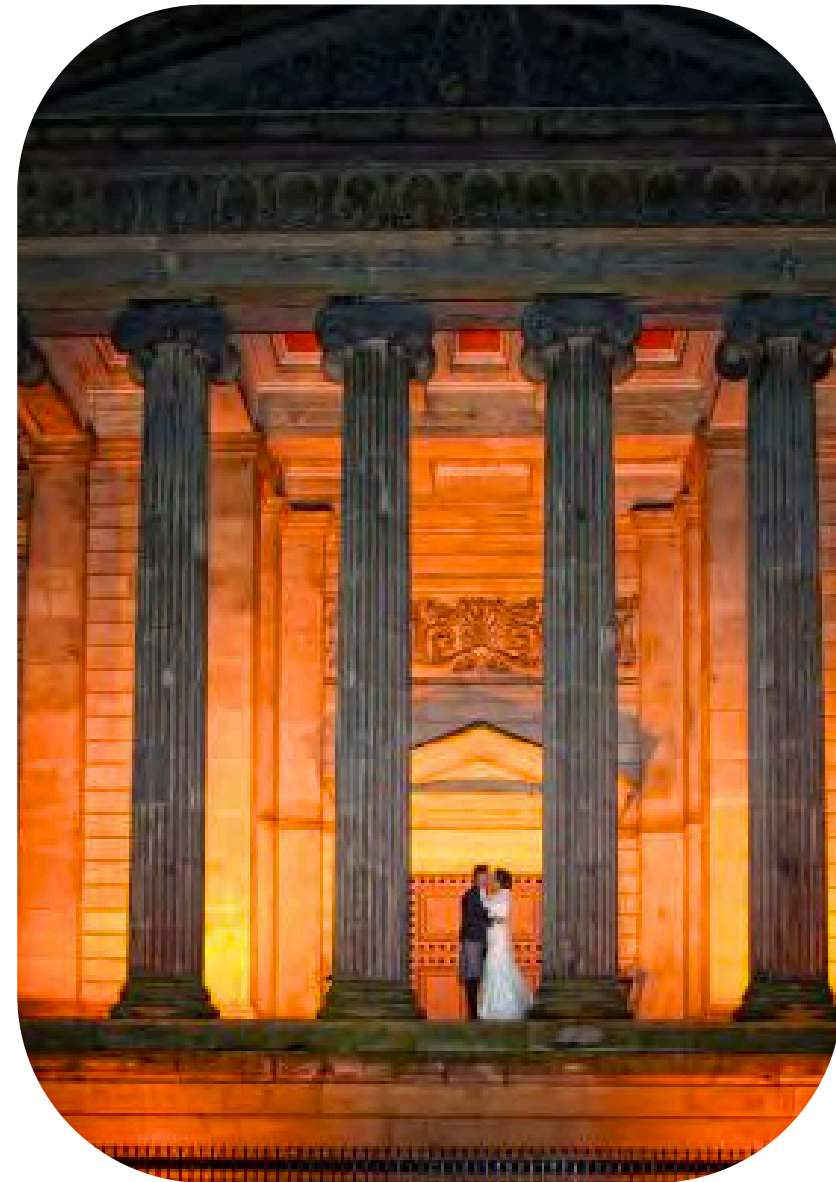

There's one more excellent reason for choosing Surgeons Quarter; our profits are gift-aided back to the College to support their world-wide education programme. By visiting us, you will help to fund surgical research and training around the world.

The moment you see our venue, you'll know it's the one for you.

We are a fully functioning College with buildings dating back to the early 19th century. As such, we limit the number of weddings we hold per year to preserve our history, to allow us to continue to provide the highest standards of surgical education, and to give our complete attention to your special day. We can therefore normally accommodate weddings on a Saturday & Sunday.

There is a fantastic opportunity to use our buildings and grounds exclusively between Christmas and New Year.

THE PLAYFAIR BUILDING

Our flagship building, completed in 1832, is the work of renowned Scottish architect William Henry Playfair

The Playfair Hall

This is our most popular room for marriage ceremonies and wedding breakfasts. The duck egg blue room features a glass cupola ceiling and large windows which flood the room with natural light

Forget the Turnaround Time

As we have multiple venues onsite, there is no waiting around for your guests. The transition from the ceremony to the wedding breakfast and to the evening reception is seamless!

The Fellows' Library

The Fellow's Library is an elegant, oak-panelled room with an unrivalled book collection and a traditional fireplace.

THE PRINCE PHILIP BUILDING

The latest addition to our portfolio of venues was formerly the European School of Languages. The Building is named after the past Patron of The Royal College of Surgeons of Edinburgh, Prince Philip.

The Deacon Suite

This light and airy space looks out over the College gardens. The room has retained many of its original features including ornate pillars and a cupola ceiling. With its sprung wooden dance floor and private bar, it is the ideal venue for your evening reception.

THE QUINCENTENARY BUILDING

Opened in 2005 to mark 500 years of the Royal College of Surgeons of Edinburgh.

The Wolfson Hall

The entire top floor is dedicated to this large modern space. Easily accessible from Nicolson Street with a large courtyard area, it is the perfect venue for your reception
